About Me

Hi! I am Carmen, and recently moved to London. Even though I used to specialize in Marketing, it was while working in this industry that I discovered my passion for front-end development. It was time for a change! In the summer of 2017, I enrolled into a web development bootcamp, before receiving a 9-month scholarship from Google&Udacity four months later. While taking the course, I was given the great opportunity of starting my career in this field as a front-end developer.

Passions

I love reading books, and because of my vivid imagination, I also like to write. I would love to travel the world. Eat every type of chocolate there is. Maybe own a cat someday.

Experience

sept 2015 – april 2018 Rentrop&Straton, Bucharest, Romania
Product manager
By having a portfolio of different products on labor law, I had to create a brand around each one of them and promote them to our customers.

april 2018 – june 2018 Theme Junky, Bucharest, Romania
IT Project Manager
From creating copy for a mobile app to organizing the programmers around the development deadlines, I had to manage the visual and UI, its usability and success on the market.

june 2018 – jan 2019 Happy Advertising, Bucharest, Romania
Front-end Developer
Working on over 15 projects, my main goal was to deliver esthetic, mobile responsive websites, created in either WordPress or PrestaShop, while managing successfully our customer relations.
